The Second Seminar of the Israeli Society for Translation Studies

The seminar will be held at Baeck Hall, Bar Ilan University on Sunday, May 22 2016. We will have three overseas guests: Prof. Judith Woodsworth from Concordia University, Montreal will talk about the pseudo-translations of Gertrude Stein; Prof. Judy Wakabayashi from Kent University, Ohio will address Toury's notion of 'assumed translation' in light of Japanese tradition; and Dr. Francis Mus from the Catholic University of Leuven will talk about Leonard Cohen's work through the prism of translation as practice and theme.

The Israeli researchers include: Prof. Elda Weizman, Dr. Galia Hirsch (her topic: application of the idea of mental blending to non-literary texts), Dr. Hilla Karas and Ms. Talli Cedar (Bar Ilan University); Dr. Omri Asscher (Haifa University); and Mr. Shaul Levin (Tel Aviv University).
